The case of State of Arkansas vs Jno. Huffman has been submitted to the Supreme court and a decision will probably be rendered next Monday. Huffman was sentenced in the July term of the Nevada court for manslaughter.

Invitation are today being sent out to all Shriners in Arkansas requesting their presence at a ceremonial session that will be held in Little Rock on Thanksgiving day. Efforts will be made to have this the largest of the year, taking fully over 100 candidates over the burning sands.

The Supreme court has reversed the decision of the Nevada Circuit court in the case of Sam Woodland who was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for burglary. Woodlawn is the negro who broke into the Iron Mountain passenger station here several months ago and convicted in the July term of court.

The Board of Penitentiary Commissioners is in the market with 250 bales of long staple cotton, and find a scarcity of buyers. The commissioner has gone about the marketing of its cotton in the most business like manner. It has leased offices in a down town building at Little Rock where many of the cotton concerns are located, and there the samples of the cotton for sale are kept on display. It was almost impossible to get the cotton buyers out to look at the samples when displayed at the penitentiary or Capitol. The commission has heretofore sold 201 bales, and it is estimated that the crop will be in the vicinity of 1,800 bale. A crop of 2,500 bales was expected, but the fall rains have decreased the yield.
